Overview

Begin in Ouarzazate and follow a slower southern journey: the palm groves and earthen architecture of Skoura, the Drâa Valley around Agdz, then Zagora and the Tinfou dunes. This is a desert-edge itinerary with road-accessible stops, designed for travellers who want landscapes and local encounters without presenting a remote Sahara expedition as a quick excursion.

Experiences

1. Skoura palm grove & Amridil Kasbah
2. Agdz and the Drâa Valley
3. Zagora & a Tinfou dune visit

Your itinerary

Day 1 / Ouarzazate → Skoura → Ouarzazate

Start with a morning pickup in Ouarzazate and travel to Skoura. Visit Amridil Kasbah when open, then take a gentle palm-grove walk with a local guide on agreed public paths. Leave time for lunch and photographs before returning to Ouarzazate. Overnight at a guesthouse selected in your written quote. This separate eastbound day keeps Skoura from becoming a rushed detour on the long southern drive.

Meals: Lunch paid separately. Dinner and breakfast only if listed in the accommodation quote.

Overnight: Proposed guesthouse night in Ouarzazate; property and room type confirmed before booking.

Ouarzazate > Amridil Kasbah > Skoura > Ouarzazate

Day 2 / Ouarzazate → Agdz → Zagora

Leave Ouarzazate for Agdz, allowing for the winding road and viewpoints. Meet a local guide for a short, agreed oasis walk, then follow the Drâa Valley toward Zagora. Break for lunch and select a small number of village or landscape stops with your driver. Arrive with daylight remaining and settle into your confirmed accommodation. Shops, pottery visits and guided heritage visits are optional additions, not automatic inclusions.

Meals: Lunch paid separately. Dinner and breakfast according to your final quote.

Overnight: Proposed guesthouse night in Zagora; no camp or luxury standard is implied.

Day 3 / Zagora → Tinfou dunes → Ouarzazate

Make an early visit to the Tinfou dunes, subject to heat, wind and current access. Allow a short guided walk rather than a strenuous dune climb if that suits your group. Camel rides are optional and require a separate agreement. Return through Zagora and Agdz to Ouarzazate, allowing a substantial part of the day for driving and rest stops. Final timing is set by the provider; do not plan a tight flight connection after the return.

Meals: Lunch and drinks paid separately unless explicitly included.

Overnight: Tour ends in Ouarzazate; no third overnight stay included.

Accessibility & practical notes

This tour includes several hours of road travel, uneven paths and exposed sandy ground. It is not a remote Erg Chegaga or Merzouga expedition. Tell us your walking limits, medical or dietary needs and children's ages so a provider can assess suitability. The programme may be adjusted for weather, road conditions and site access.

Questions & answers

Will we stay in a desert camp?

The proposed itinerary uses two guesthouse nights. A desert camp, camel ride or remote dune excursion can only be added through a revised quote with a named operator and confirmed facilities.

Can the tour finish in Marrakech or Agadir?

Request an extension or a different final destination in the enquiry. Extra transport, travel time and any additional overnight stay must be quoted separately.

Does the displayed route show real road directions?

The route diagram connects approximate stop locations and is an overview. Each daily Google Maps link opens road directions; the driver confirms the actual route and meeting points.
